

Media Relations
1084 Hwy 7 East
Center, TX 75935
936-598-6689

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact:
Marta Brown, Director of Marketing Communications
Ameri-Tech Building Systems
media.relations@ameritechbuildings.com

Ameri-Tech Answers Customer Requests with Expanded Services

CENTER, Texas (May 25, 2007) Ameri-Tech Building Systems is a company that focuses on providing excellent customer service and has listened to their customers' requests. As a manufacturer of man camps and major projects, Ameri-Tech has expanded their services to provide a broader scope of services for man camps and provide major project site management. International or domestic expanded services include design, manufacture, site installation, camp management, catering, lease and purchase options.

"We have a major project management team and sales staff with extensive experience in domestic and international camp design, set up and management," says Jim Donnan, CEO of Ameri-Tech Building Systems, the largest provider of oil field housing in the U.S. "We have expanded our estimating, engineering and design groups to meet and exceed our customers' growing demand for design and quotes for products to meet any condition or code worldwide with immediate response. Our experience extends to more than 80 different countries."

-more-

With four strategically located plants, Ameri-Tech continues to meet on time delivery for any schedule for their customers with quality rig-site housing, modular and commercial structures, man camps and major projects.

Ameri-Tech Building Systems sets the standard for the industry by providing the highest quality products to meet their customers' needs and applications.

About Ameri-Tech Building Systems

Ameri-Tech Building Systems is a Texas-based company, established in 1996. As the largest provider of oil field housing in the U.S., Ameri-Tech produces commercial modular buildings as well as remote workforce housing and man camps. Commercial modular buildings are used by schools and education agencies, construction, general office, engineering offices, banks, municipalities and the federal government. Ameri-Tech is setting the standard for the industry by providing the highest quality products to meet their customers' needs and applications.

For more information about Ameri-Tech Building Systems, please visit their Web site:

<http://www.ameritechbuildings.com>.

###